

Contents

Perspectives

The Future of Yoga Therapy: Visibility and Vision3
Veronica Zador, IAYT President

A Perennial Debate.....5
Sat Bir S. Khalsa, PhD

Is the Yoga World Ready? An Academic Perspective7
David Shapiro, PhD

Reflections on Researching Yoga.....9
Karen Sherman, PhD, MPH

Enhancing the Quality of Communication and Collaboration between Yoga
 Practitioners and Clinical Scientists 11
Philippe Goldin, PhD, and Tali Manber

Issues in Yoga Therapy

Exploring Yoga Therapy.....13
Ganesh Mohan

Integrating Yoga Cikitsā in the West:
 Challenges and Future Directions.....21
Laura Sevika Douglass, MA, and Subhas R. Tiwari, MA

Harvesting the Full Potential of Group
 Yoga Therapy Classes33
Matthew J. Taylor, PT, PhD, RYT

Research

Headstand for Rotator Cuff Tear:
Shīrshāsana or Surgery39
Loren M. Fishman, MD, Caroline Konnoth, PT, and Alena Polesin, MD

Take a Breath, Break The Silence:
 The Effects of Yogic Breathing and Testimony About Abuse on Self-Efficacy
 in Battered Women49
*Susan H. Franzblau, PhD, Michelle Smith,
 Sonia Echevarria, and Thomas E. VanCantfort, PhD*

Teaching Therapeutic Yoga to Medical Outpatients: Practice Descriptions,
 Process Reflections, and Preliminary Outcomes59
*Kirsten T. Gabriel, MA, RYT, Katie M. Edwards, Seoka Salstrom, MS, Manjula Spears, RYT,
 and Richard A. Panico, MD*

Continuing Education

What Yoga Therapists Should Know
 About the Anatomy of Breathing.....67
Leslie Kaminoff

The Role of Yoga Therapy in Knee Rehabilitation..79
Nicole DeAvilla Whiting, RYT

Interview

The Future of Yoga Therapy:
 A Conversation with Richard Miller, PhD.....95
Janice Gates

Reviews101

Contributors.....109

Contributors

Laura Douglass, MA, teaches and practices Integral Yoga in Massachusetts. She holds an MA from Lesley University with a specialization in Yoga psychology. She specializes in bringing the traditional teachings of Yoga to the mental health community, and is currently teaching Yoga to individuals with eating disorders. www.yogapsychology.org.

Katie Edwards is a doctoral student in the clinical psychology program at Ohio University. Her research interests include sexual assault prevention, dating violence, and mindfulness-based interventions.

Loren M. Fishman, MD, is a physician specializing in physical medicine and rehabilitation. He has a daily Yoga practice and 30 years of experience using Yoga in his medical practice. His interests include sciatica, electrophysiology, brain injury, and the nature of spirituality. He teaches at Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons and practices privately in New York City.

Susan H. Franzblau, PhD, is a feminist social developmental psychologist and professor at Fayetteville State University. Her interests lie in challenging the individualistic approach to efficacy, and new ways of looking at the relationships among mind, body, and breath through Yoga. She also owns the Om Yoga Studio in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Kirsten T. Gabriel, MA, RYT, is an advanced doctoral candidate in clinical psychology at the University of Georgia. Her research and clinical interests are trauma, posttraumatic stress, and mindfulness.

Leslie Kaminoff has over 26 years of experience in Yoga, breath anatomy, and bodywork, and is the author of Yoga Anatomy. Leslie currently practices Yoga therapy in New York City and Great Barrington, Massachusetts. He is the founder of e-Sutra (<http://esutra.blogspot.com>) and the Breathing Project, a non-profit organization dedicated to the teaching of individualized, breath-centered Yoga practice and therapy.

Carolyn Konnoth, PT, has treated patients for more than 25 years in India and the U.S. She is a master of craniosacral and other Upledger techniques, and has written on pediatric physical therapy. She lives in Long Island, New York.

Ganesh Mohan, son of A.G. Mohan and Indra Mohan, was trained from childhood in Yoga and other related areas such as Vedic chanting. He is a doctor, formally trained in both modern medicine and Ayurveda. He is the co-author of the Mohans' latest book, Yoga Therapy. He is deeply interested in the profound wisdom of the Yoga Sūtra of Patanjali, which he continues to study and teach. www.svastha.com.

Richard Panico, MD, is a board-certified psychiatrist, director of the Mind-Body Institute, and co-developer of the Yoga programs at Athens Regional Medical Center in Athens, Georgia. He teaches mind-body medicine at the Medical College of Georgia.

Alena Polesin, MD, migrated from Moscow to become Chief Resident of Rehabilitation at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. Her interests are electrodiagnosis, ultrasound for diagnostic purposes, and pain management.

Seoka Salstrom, PhD, graduated from the University of Georgia clinical psychology program and is a postdoctoral fellow in clinical health psychology at the University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics in Madison. Her research and clinical interests include mindfulness interventions and the relationship between trauma and physical health.

Manjula Spears, RYT, is the senior Yoga therapist and co-developer of the Therapeutic and Gentle Yoga programs for the Mind-Body Institute at Athens Regional Medical Center in Athens, Georgia. She is a principal trainer of advanced and intermediate Yoga teachers for Integral Yoga.

Matthew J. Taylor, PT, PhD, RYT, is a licensed physical therapist, a Yoga therapist, and founder of Dynamic Systems Rehabilitation in Scottsdale, Arizona. He is a leader in applying integrative medicine principles in the field of rehabilitation, and provides continuing professional medical education seminars and workshops across the country. www.dynamicsystem-srehab.com.

Subhas R. Tiwari, MA, is a resident faculty at Hindu University. He teaches courses on Yoga, meditation, and Yoga philosophy. He graduated from Bihar Yoga Bharati with a masters degree in Yoga philosophy. He has taught Yoga for over 10 years in the U.S. and Ontario, Canada. www.hindu-university.edu

Nicole DeAvilla Whiting, RYT, teaches Yoga in Marin County, CA, and teacher training at the Expanding Light Retreat Center in Nevada City, CA. She has taught Ananda Yoga, meditation, and philosophy for over 22 years, specializing in therapeutic Yoga, prenatal and postpartum Yoga, and private lessons.