Contributors

Chase Bossart is a student of Mr. TKV Desikachar and a KHYF-certified Yoga Teacher Trainer. He has an MA in Religious Studies from the University of California Santa Barbara, and is a faculty member of Loyola Marymount University's Yoga Therapy Rx Program. He currently resides and teaches in San Francisco at the Healing Yoga Foundation (www.HealingYoga.org).

Traci M. Childress is a dedicated teacher and Yoga practitioner, a writer, and a program coordinator at Omega Institute in the Hudson Valley, NY. She believes that the practice of Yoga should be made accessible to all people and all bodies.

Michael H. Cohen is an attorney-at-law in private practice. He is also an Assistant Clinical Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School and Assistant Professor in the Department of Health Policy & Management, Harvard School of Public Health. He received his RYT from Full Spectrum Yoga in Newport Beach, California.

Nicole DeAvilla has been teaching Yoga for 23 years, specializing in therapeutic Yoga, prenatal and postpartum Yoga, advanced teacher training, meditation, and Yoga philosophy. She was a research assistant at the Center for Sports Medicine, St. Francis Hospital, San Francisco. In addition to research articles, Nicole has published many articles on Yoga practice, teaching, and lifestyle.

Laura Douglass is adjunct faculty at Lesley University and Hindu University's College of Yoga Sciences. She is currently interested in uncovering the pedagogical approach that is unique to and based within the Yogic understanding of education. www.yogapsychology.org

Deborah Morse has been teaching Yoga since 2001 and has presented classes on Yoga for various health issues through Duke University Health System's Community Education. She has also been a Family Nurse Practitioner since 1983 and has provided care in the Department of Anesthesia at Duke since 1986.

Deborah Quilter is the author of The Repetitive Strain Injury Recovery Book (Walker, New York 1998) and Repetitive Strain Injury: A Computer User's Guide (with Emil Pascarelli, MD, Wiley, New York, 1994). Ms. Quilter works as a Yoga therapist, is on the faculty of the Rocky Mountain Institute of Yoga and Ayurveda in Colorado and the Breathing Project in New York, and teaches other Yoga teachers her methods for helping students practice āsana without exacerbating existing injuries. www.RSIhelp.com

Vijai Sharma is a mind-body psychologist with special interest in psychopulmonology and psychocardiology and applications of Yoga. www.mindpub.com

Swami Veda Bharati (formerly, Dr. Usharbudh Arya) was born into a Sanskrit-speaking family and trained by his father in meditation and Yoga philosophy. Swami Veda has lectured and taught Yoga since childhood, and for over 60 years has traveled internationally as a highly regarded scholar and Yogi. He earned a Doctorate in Sanskrit from the University of Utrecht and served as Professor of Sanskrit at the University of Minnesota. He is the author of numerous books and articles, and continues writing multi-volume commentaries on the Yoga Sūtras. He met his Guru, Swami Rama of the Himalayas, during the 1970s. In 1982, Dr. Arya took the vows of sannyasin, becoming Swami Veda Bharati. He is in residence at Swami Rama Sadhaka Grama Ashram in Rishikesh, India, where he has founded a Gurukulam for advanced studies of Sanskrit and meditation.

Elizabeth Visceglia is a long-term student and practitioner of Yoga and a medical doctor currently training in psychiatry at Montefiore Medical Center in the Bronx, NY.

Amy Wheeler teaches Yoga and Wellness at California State University, San Bernardino. She is also the research director for the non-profit Healing Yoga Foundation in San Francisco.

Linda Wilkin is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Kinesiology at California State University, San Bernardino. She specializes in exercise physiology and exercise for an aging population.
